THREE WIRE WINTER RECEIVES CAREER GRANT FROM UNITED STATES OFFICE OF EDUCATION - CAREER EDUCATION - H.E.W.

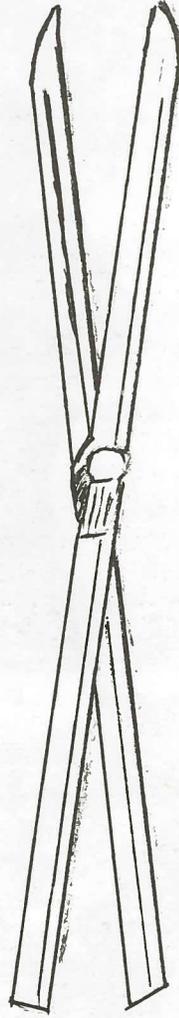

From over a hundred nationwide Foxfire magazines, of which THREE WIRE WINTER IS ONE, four were chosen as pilot sites to participate in a Career's Project. Steamboat's THREE WIRE WINTER is among the four. Students from the staff interview persons involved in specific careers and compose that information into profiles. These are then published in local issues as well as compiled for national publication. Our stories in this issue are Lonny Vanatta, pro ski racer; Carl Ramunno, high school wrestling coach; and Ray Pedersen, brand inspector. The original grant for the project was provided by the United States Office of Education - Career Education - HEW, and administered by IDEAS. A special thanks is given to Brian Buen and George Warfel for their continued assistance.

What you are reading now is THREE WIRE WINTER's eighth issue, containing parts of the fascinating history that Northwestern Colorado has captured.

Started in 1975, with a classroom of students, two sponsors, and a lot of hopeful ideas, THREE WIRE WINTER has incorporated and become a full-scale operation. We welcome all donations, subscriptions and letters. To purchase or renew a subscription, please write:
